35% of Staffing Employees Work in Higher Skilled Occupations

Source: American Staffing Association, 2014 Staffing Employee Survey

Temporary and contract employees work in virtually all occupations, from day labor to chief executive.

More than one-third (35%) work in occupations that require higher education and skills in the professional-managerial; technical, information technology, and scientific; and health care sectors. About two-thirds work in the industrial and office-administrative sectors.

Wages average more than $17 per hour; some make more than $100 per hour. Nine out of 10 staffing employees are satisfied with their staffing company.
